

Gina Velasco

Bryn Mawr College, Department of Anthropology & Gender and Sexuality Studies Program
2008-09 Predoctoral Fellow in the Humanities

Ph.D., History of Consciousness, Parenthetical Notation in Feminist Studies, The University of California at Santa Cruz, 2008 (expected)

Dissertation: Figures of Transnational Belonging: Gender, Sexuality, and the Nation in the Filipino Diaspora.

Bachelor of Arts, Anthropology; Bachelor of Arts, Latin American Studies, concentration in Women's Studies, The University of Texas at Austin, 2000

Research and Teaching Interests:

- Transnational Feminisms, Queer Diasporas/Queer Globalizations, Transnational and Diaspora Studies
- Feminist Theory, Women of Color Feminisms
- Filipino American Studies, Asian American Studies, Ethnic Studies
- Gender, Sexuality, and the Nation in the Filipino Diaspora, Filipino Diasporic Cultural Production, including Film/Video, Performance, Internet

Publications:

“El Otro Encuentro: Gigi Oltavaro-Hormillosa's ‘Neo-Queer Precolonial Imagining.’” Review of Women's Studies, University of the Philippines at Diliman, forthcoming.

“(Re)imagining the Transnational Filipina Body: Gigi Oltavaro-Hormillosa's Cosmic Blood” in Representations of Overseas Filipino Workers: Gender, Transnational Labor, and Visual Culture, Roland Tolentino and Odine de Guzman, eds., forthcoming.

Courses Taught:

Gender, Nation, Diaspora

Women of Color: Genders and Sexualities

Imagining the Filipino Diaspora: Gender, Sexuality, and Nation in Filipino American/Philippine Cultural Production

Fellowships, Grants, and Awards:

Dissertation Year Fellowship, Office of the President, University of California: 2007-2008

Grant, Davis Putter Scholarship Fund: 2007-2008

Dissertation Fellowship, Institute for Humanities Research, U.C. Santa Cruz: Fall 2006
Seminar in Experimental Critical Theory Fellowship, Humanities Research Institute, U.C. Irvine: Summer
2005
University of California Regents Fellowship, U.C. Santa Cruz: Fall 2004
Ford Predoctoral Fellowship, Honorable Mention: Spring 2003
Eugene V. Cota-Robles Fellowship, U.C. Santa Cruz: 2001-2003
Ruth S. and Harrop A. Freeman Fellowship, Peace Action Education Fund: 2000-2001