Bryn Mawr College is recruiting a Director of the Graduate School of Social Work and Social Research (GSSWSR).

Position Description: The Director of the GSSWSR will lead the social work faculty in administering the Bryn Mawr College Graduate School of Social Work and Social Research and its three degree programs: Master of Social Service (MSS), Master of Law and Social Policy (MLSP), and Doctor of Philosophy (PhD). The Director reports directly to the Dean of Graduate Studies who has primary responsibility for all graduate education at the college. The Director will be active in fund-raising, competing for grants, supporting faculty and student scholarship, developing and implementing the curriculum and promoting the intellectual life of both the School and the College. The Director will be expected to teach no more than two courses per year. Applicants are encouraged to learn more about the history, mission, and the exciting nature of graduate social work education at Bryn Mawr College by visiting the GSSWSR website: http://www.brynmawr.edu/socialwork/

Requirements: PhD; masters in social work; administrative experience in a program that offers both the MSW and PhD degrees in social work; proven ability to engage in effective fundraising; active involvement in national and/or international issues of relevance to social work and related fields; interdisciplinary experience; and an overall level of scholarly accomplishment worthy of a faculty member with the rank of Professor.

Salary and Benefits: Highly competitive and negotiable.

Application: Nominations with contact information for prospective candidates are welcome. Interested individuals should submit a detailed letter describing their interest, experience, and vision for leading the social work faculty at the GSSWSR. The letter should be accompanied by a curriculum vitae demonstrating the academic and administrative experience and accomplishments to provide the leadership Bryn Mawr is seeking. The applicant should also submit contact information including phone numbers and e-mail addresses of at least three persons who can speak to the applicant’s qualifications. Application packets should be sent electronically (pdf documents are preferred) to Vicki Gerstenfeld at vgersten@brynmawr.edu. Documents that must be mailed should be sent to: Elizabeth McCormack, Interim Dean of Graduate Studies, GSSWSR, Bryn Mawr College, 300 Airdale Road, Bryn Mawr, PA 19010.

Nominations and confidential inquiries can be made by calling 610-520-2611. Applications will be reviewed beginning on October 15, 2008 and the review process will continue until the position is filled.

Located in suburban Philadelphia, Bryn Mawr College is a highly selective liberal arts college for women who share an intense intellectual commitment, a self-directed and purposeful vision of their lives, and a desire to make meaningful contributions to the world. Bryn Mawr comprises an undergraduate college with 1,200 students, as well as coeducational graduate schools in some humanities, sciences, and social work. The College participates in a consortium together with Haverford and Swarthmore Colleges and the University of Pennsylvania. Bryn Mawr College is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer. Minority candidates and women are especially encouraged to apply.