AIDS Fund

AIDS Fund supports organizations in the Philadelphia Region that provide AIDS and HIV-related services, education and prevention. We do this by organizing volunteers to raise and distribute funds, and through increasing public awareness of HIV/AIDS issues. In 1987, volunteers from Philadelphia's lesbian and gay community center, Penguin Place, decided to organize a walk-a-thon to support area AIDS agencies and raise public awareness about the disease. The Delaware Valley's first AIDS Walk raised $33,000. Since then, AIDS Fund has raised more than $11 million and is the largest private funder of AIDS service organizations in the region.

Bread and Roses Community Fund

Bread and Roses Community Fund is a unique partnership of donors and activists committed to supporting social change in the Delaware Valley. A public foundation, Bread and Roses has distributed nearly $6 million to groups working for access to health care; economic justice; a clean, safe environment; civil and human rights; peace; and other issues. After 25 years of supporting change, not charity, Bread and Roses remains committed to providing resources to the voices of progressive activism. Bread and Roses is part of a larger movement of local and national organizations, technical assistance providers, think tanks, foundations and socially responsible business people that work for social change.

The Environmental Fund for Pennsylvania works to promote charitable giving for environmental protection, conservation efforts and environmental education. Since our inception in 1991, the Environmental Fund for Pennsylvania has raised and distributed over half a million dollars to our Participating Organizations, which include conservation, recreation and environmental organizations serving communities all across Pennsylvania. Our goal is to continue expanding opportunities for people to have an easy and effective way to help the environment, and in doing so, keep Pennsylvania's environment clean and healthy.

United Way, one of the largest, oldest and most respected community-based organizations in our area has a simple way of helping people. We discover the most pressing and critical needs in our community, and then gather the people and resources to meet those needs. We focus on providing essential health and human services to children, youth and adults, and supporting safe and thriving communities and neighborhoods. Our goal is that everyone in our region can reach his or her full potential. United Way dollars and programs touch one in four individuals in our region.
