

International Civic Engagement: NGO Work in the Global South

Thursday, January 31

Wyndham

MORE THAN ABC: WORKING TO IMPROVE THE REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH OF ADOLESCENT AND YOUNG WOMEN IN AFRICA

7:30 – 8:30 p.m.

Cynthia Eyakuze-Di Domenico '94, Director, Public Health Watch Project, Public Health Program of the Open Society Institute, and Katharine Houghton Hepburn Fellow 2007-08

NGO ENGAGEMENT IN THE GLOBAL SOUTH BY FACULTY MEMBERS 8:30 – 9:30 p.m.

Susan White, Professor of Chemistry: “From Molecular Biology to NGOs in Togo”

Mary Osirim, Professor of Sociology: “Empowering Women: NGO’s Confronting Poverty, Violence, and Globalization in Southern Africa”

Friday, February 1

Dorothy Vernon Room

TEA/COFFEE & MUFFINS

9 – 9:30 a.m.

NGO ACTIVITIES IN THE GLOBAL SOUTH: THE BROADER PICTURE

9:30 – 11 a.m.

Leslie Rescorla, Director, Katharine Houghton Hepburn Center: “The Hepburn Center: Fostering Civic Engagement Abroad”

Dan Wagner, Professor of Human Development, University of Pennsylvania Graduate School of Education; Director, International Literacy Institute; and Co-Chair, Penn Global Development Initiative: “The Multiple and Reciprocal Roles of Higher Education in International Development”

Imani Countess, Senior Director of Public Affairs, TransAfrica Forum: “The Jubilee Movement: A Model for North/South Solidarity”

STUDENT INVOLVEMENT IN INTERNATIONAL CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

11 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.

A panel of Bryn Mawr students who have participated in international internships describe and discuss their civic engagement experiences abroad.

LUNCH ROUNDTABLE

12:30 – 2 p.m.

Facilitators: Cynthia Eyakuze-Di Domenico and Leslie Rescorla

Topic: The Future of International Civic Engagement

January 31 & February 1
Bryn Mawr College

Sponsored by the Katharine Houghton Hepburn Center and the Center for International Studies

Registration for the conference is free.
A box lunch will be provided for a limited number of participants who preregister

R.S.V.P. to scoppola@brynmawr.edu