Starting Monday, May 27, you'll be able to use your I.D. card to make purchases at Bryn Mawr College, just as you do here at Haverford. Certain vending machines will also accept your card. It's all part of the new OneCard system that'll bring greater efficiencies to both campuses.

But unlike the current system, which deducts charges from your paycheck, your OneCard expenses will be deducted from a new account that you'll need to fund yourself before it can be used.

We expect the transition to take place between Wednesday, May 22 and Monday, May 27 and will be sending you instructions for accessing your online account and adding money to it.

Please note that you won't be able to use your current card to charge expenses at the Coop or Bookstore during the transition, so plan on using cash or a credit card from May 22 through May 27 (or until you fund your new OneCard account).

We realize this is a big change that will significantly affect some community members, so we thank you in advance for your support and cooperation.
