TELL US A STORY...

in under 7 minutes with 20 slides

A Call for Undergraduate Presentations
as part of a Symposium held at Bryn Mawr College to mark the exhibition of Camp Pause

Storytelling as Power, Resistance, Critique
Friday, November 9, 11:00 am – 2:00 pm
Bryn Mawr College, Canaday Rare Book Room

Featuring a Keynote Lecture by Assistant Professor Sofia Fenner (Political Science)
“Metaphor and Politics under Authoritarianism”

Deadline for submissions: Friday, October 12, 2018

The symposium is convened on the occasion of the current exhibition Camp Pause (Sept 12–Dec 14, 2018). Camp Pause follows four refugees, who narrate their experiences in a Palestinian camp. It engages modes of storytelling, ideas of refuge, and the symbol of the sea.

Possible topics might involve:

STORYTELLING:
- as communal power
- as private experience versus public communication
- as oral and/or embodied performance
- as clandestine
- as empathy building
- as personal narrative or identity formation
- in mode of Fairytales, folklore, and mythology
- as a transcultural agent
- as critical monument/memorial

---

Special Collections invites undergraduates to submit proposals for PechaKucha presentations. PechaKucha presenters show 20 slides for 20 seconds each, with slides advancing automatically, and without exceeding the time limit of 6 minutes and 40 seconds.

Undergraduate research will be presented from 11am-12pm. Graduate research papers will follow the 12noon keynote lecture.

For more information about Tania El Khoury’s larger project at Bryn Mawr College, see: http://taniaelkhoury.brynmawr.edu/.