SEPTEMBER 10  “News from Abroad: Reports from the Field”

SEPTEMBER 17  SUZANNE LYE, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
“When Starvation is a Curse: The Cosmic Implications of a Mother’s Anger in the Homeric Hymn to Demeter”

SEPTEMBER 24  JOSEPH FARRELL, University of Pennsylvania
“Bookhands and Handbooks”
Opening lecture for The Private Lives of Old Books Exhibition

OCTOBER 1  EVAN JEWELL, Rutgers University, Camden
“Seeing Rome from the Streets: Wayfinding towards a Subaltern Topography of the City of Rome”

OCTOBER 22  RONNIE ANCONA, Hunter College

OCTOBER 29  KAROLINA SEKITA, University of Oxford
“Death Imagined: Conceptualising the Dead in Archaic and Classical Greece”

NOVEMBER 5  GUNNEL EKROTH, Uppsala University
“No Sticky Fingers at Epidauros? Regulating Worshippers’ Access and Movements at an Incubation Shrine”

NOVEMBER 12  EVAN RODRIGUEZ, Idaho State University
“Rivals or Relatives? From Sophistic Antilogic to Platonic Dialectic”

NOVEMBER 19  JULIA SHEAR, American School for Classical Studies in Athens
“Erasing Macedonians: The Politics of Athenian Space in 200 B.C.”

DECEMBER 3  MATTHEW JAMESON, Bryn Mawr College
“Imperial/Non-Imperial Encounters in the Gulf: The Seleucid, Parthian, and Sasanian Glazed Pottery from Southeastern Arabia”

DECEMBER 10  End of Term Graduate Group Presentations

Unless otherwise noted, all Colloquia will take place at 4:30 p.m. in Room B21 of the Rhys Carpenter Library on the campus of Bryn Mawr College. Tea will be held at 4:00 p.m. in the Quita Woodward Room, Old Library.

For information call 610-526-5198; or email ocardona@brynmawr.edu
Free and open to the public | www.brynmawr.edu/classics