Seniors for The Bryn Mawr Fund
Committee Member Position Description

Job Description & Responsibilities
Bryn Mawr College’s Senior Gift program presents a unique opportunity to engage graduating seniors in financially giving back to the College. Since its inception in 1990, class participation in the Senior Gift has ranged anywhere from 7% to 87% with an overall goal of inspiring seniors to give and learn about philanthropy at Bryn Mawr and beyond. Collective giving rates have an immense impact on the College and are factored in the methodology for college rankings, looked at by foundations for funding, and seen by prospective students as a key indicator of the College’s success.

With support from The Bryn Mawr Fund, Senior Gift Committee members solicit classmates for donations. Committee members answer questions and provide updates on the progress of the gift drive. The success of the Senior Gift relies on devoted and motivated Committee members who can reach out to and connect with every member of the senior class.

Specific Responsibilities
- Make a commitment to personally give to the Senior Gift effort by the end of fall Semester.
- Attend all required committee meetings and training sessions (meetings to be held monthly beginning in September through December and biweekly during spring semester).
- Participate actively and responsibly, including: staffing tabling events, making posters for events, making Residence Hall solicitations, and taking on additional responsibilities as required.
- Agree to ask approximately 10 classmates to contribute to the Senior Gift. These classmates become personal assignments.
- Keep classmates updated on the progress of the Senior Gift program.
- Work in conjunction with the committee, keeping other members and the committee chairs informed of your progress.
- Attend and encourage classmates to attend several receptions over the course of the year.

Additional Qualities Required
- Belief in the fundamental purpose of Senior Gift and its philanthropic mission
- Enthusiasm, commitment, reliability
- Ability to work well under pressure and meet deadlines
- Time-management and organizational skills

Serving on the Senior Gift Committee is an exceptional opportunity to demonstrate your enthusiasm and support for Bryn Mawr and help to create a lasting and significant legacy for your class. Additionally, this high-profile position will be recognized by alumnae leaders who want seniors to be successful; personally and professionally.
