

LEADERSHIP, INNOVATION & LIBERAL ARTS CENTER

LILAC

AT BRYN MAWR COLLEGE

Dear Bryn Mawr Alumnae:

After six years of working closely with alumnae/i, Cori Ashworth left her position as Director of Alumnae/i Career Services to move back to Western Massachusetts. Beginning on August 1st she will operate as a part-time Career Consultant and continue to provide career counseling services for the Bryn Mawr alumnae/i community. We wish Cori well as she transitions to this next phase of her life and appreciate all that she has done to provide guidance and support for the alumnae/i community.

Over the summer the Leadership, Innovation, & Liberal Arts Center (LILAC) will collaborate with Alumnae Relations & Development to launch a search for a full-time on-site staff member to oversee Alumnae Career Services. We are excited to establish a position that builds on the foundation of programs Cori developed during her tenure. The position will be intentionally integrated and supported by LILAC, while still connected to the work of the Alumnae Association.

If you would like to schedule an appointment with Cori while we work to hire a full-time Alumnae/i Career staff member, please write to her at her new email coricoachbmc@gmail.com. She will continue to offer coaching appointments, resume editing, practice interviews, and other planning related to careers. Appointment scheduling for August begins on July 1st. Cori will have appointments Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 1:00-5:00 and Q & A office hours on Thursday afternoons between 4-5pm EST. She will also take on-demand calls for job related advice.

Sincerely,

Handwritten signatures of Katie Krimmel and Millie Bond in blue ink.
