

Internship unique land use GmbH - www.unique-landuse.de

Since 2003, unique land use GmbH develops and implements intelligent land use strategies, aimed at sustainable and inclusive development with an international orientation. With its team of 60 employees from over 15 countries, the consulting company has realized over 1000 projects in more than 70 countries in recent years. Unique contributes to climate protection and climate adaption with projects in the areas of afforestation, agriculture and agroforestry systems, coastal protection and mangrove rehabilitation, and forest protection and sustainable forest management. So far, the projects have generated around 2.6 million carbon credits and improved the livelihoods of more than 100,000 smallholder farmers.

Fields of activity of the internship:

Collaboration in one of the following areas:

- Forestry
- Agriculture
- Climate

Literature research / support in writing technical proposals / writing specific chapters within a project document / analysis activities

Qualifications:

Required

- Ability to work independently
- Team player with creativity & curiosity
- Organizational and problem-solving skills

Preferred

- Talented writer, able to construct compelling narratives,
- Proficiency with MS Office
- Experience with Geographic Information Systems
- Good command of French or Spanish is an advantage

Internship language:

English is working language at unique land use GmbH.

Required application documents

CV & Motivation letter

Possible major(s)/areas of study

Forestry / Agricultural science / Environmental Sciences / Geography / Biology

Learning outcomes:

- Gaining an insight into the activities of a consulting company in the field of international development
- Professional development e.g. in sustainable forestry/agriculture, climate change adaptation, landscape restoration
- Development of intercultural competence through working in a multinational team