

Embracing Equity at Work and at Home

Wednesday, March 15, 12 PM ET / 9 AM PT

Celebrate Women’s History Month and International Women’s Day with us! Join Reshma Saujani as she leads a conversation with Blessing Adesiyan, Sung Yeon Choimorrow, and Vivian Nava-Schellinger on what equity truly means for women — and particularly for women of color. Embracing Equity at Work and at Home will be a candid discussion about how equity has advanced (or not) for women, the residual impact of the pandemic on the struggle for equity, and the challenges and opportunities women face overall and within individual communities. Most importantly, we’ll discuss how we can learn from and support each other at work, at home and within our communities so women everywhere can rise.

Register for Free

Moderated by Reshma Saujani
CEO/founder of Moms First & founder of Girls Who Code

SPEAKERS

Blessing Adesiyan
Founder of MH WorkLife

Vivian Nava-Schellinger
Director of National & Community
Partnerships and Network Activation at National Council on Aging

Sung Yeon Choimorrow
Executive Director of National Asian
Pacific American Women's Forum