What is Health Insurance?

An insurance plan that offers coverage for:

• Provider Services
• Medications
• Hospital Care
• Special Equipment

Most insurance plans include:

• Immunizations for children and adults
• Annual visits for women and seniors and more!

Depending on your plan, you would pay either a reduced fee or no fee at all for services!
What is Health Insurance?

Insurance plans can differ by the providers you see and how much you must pay.

Medicaid and CHIP programs also vary from state to state.

Request a Summary of Benefits and Coverage document that summarizes the key features of the plan or coverage, such as the covered benefits, cost-sharing provisions, and coverage limitations and exceptions.
Common Terminology

Premium – The total cost of the insurance plan. This doesn’t include your deductible, copayment or co-insurance.

If you enroll into a plan offered by your job, you and your employer will split the cost in paying for the plan by making payments monthly, quarterly, or yearly.

If you purchase a plan on your own, you will typically make monthly payments.
Common Terminology

Co-Payment/Co-Pay – A set amount you are required to pay after your insurance is applied for certain services (ex. doctor’s visit, hospital outpatient visit, or prescription drug). Copayments are usually between $0 - $50 depending on your insurance plan and the type of visit/service.

Deductible – A set amount you are required to pay before your insurance plan is applied for non-co-pay services. For example, if your deductible is $500 and the total bill is $1,000, your plan won’t pay anything until you’ve paid the $500 and then they will cover the difference.
Common Terminology

Co-Insurance – Your share of the costs of a covered health care service, calculated as a percent of the allowed amount for the service. You pay co-insurance plus any deductibles you owe.

Claim – A payment request for the health services performed. The claim is typically filed by the provider directly to the insurer and collect the co-pay and/or co-insurance at the time of service.

Network – A group of facilities, providers, and suppliers your health insurer has contracted with to provide health care services (also known as in-network providers). Providers that are not contracted with your health insurer are known as out-of-network and may cost more if you go to them.
Health Insurance Network Types

Exclusive Provider Organization (EPO) – Cost is covered ONLY IF you use a provider in their network unless it’s an emergency

Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) – May limit coverage to providers that contract with them and may require one to live or work in its service area
Health Insurance Network Types

- Point of Service (POS) – You pay less if you use a provider in their network. Typically, requires you to get a referral from your primary care doctor to see a specialist.

- Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) – You pay less if you use a provider in their network. You can use a provider outside their network for an additional cost.
Managed by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, the “marketplace” offers health insurance plans to anyone who chooses to purchase one on their own.

Some plans offered through the marketplace include plan categories which determines how you and your insurance plan will split the costs.
